

the GLORIOUS DAYS
OF THE SUGAR FIESTA:
Sweetland
&
the POWER of SOUR,

An original of
Ms. Rice's 4th grade class at Woodward School For Technology And Research in conjunction with Read And Write Kalamazoo

A Division of Geological & Musicological Survey Co. Publications
Copyright 2018

Published January 18th, 2018

For more information about Read And Write Kalamazoo's literacy focused programs, please visit www.readandwritekzoo.org

Today's Story Helpers Are:

Leader: Jason Conde

Illustrator: Emily Kastner

Typist: Victoria Marcetti

Support: Shannon Walsh

This publication was supported by Lake Michigan Credit Union

The Glorious Days Of The Sugar Fiesta: Sweetland And The Power Of Sour

Once upon a time there was a land formed entirely of candy. There were chocolate swamps, chewy fruit caves, and gummy trees. When cotton candy clouds formed and got too heavy they would let loose storms of ice cream and sprinkles.

The rain fell to water a range of candy flora including donut cacti with sprinkle spikes, gummy worm grass, and giant gingerbread leaves. Among the plants lived lots of special creatures, like Elegum, gummy elephants that were the size of strawberries. There were also Chroggy, gummy frogs that lived in gummy caves, and Cotton Tigies, cotton candy tigers who all had very good manners.

All of the vehicles in this world were powered by chocolate milk. There were hoverboards, gummy cars whose tires were pumped with caramel, chocolate cake buses with pretzel steering wheels, and licorice bikes with donut wheels, just to name a few.

This candy world was the home of Lady Licorice, a peach creature with chocolate hair and green sour eyes who never went anywhere without her strawberry jam lipstick. Clever Lady Licorice lived in a candy treehouse and teleported to bullies to teach them how to be nice.

Cakey Jake (or CJ so Cool) lived in a cave in the syrup jungle. CJ so Cool had a cake face, peppermint eyes, 4 arms, 2 left feet, and sometimes walked in circles. It helped Lady Licorice slow down bullies by throwing its butter stick nose to make people slip and fall.

The world was sweet...except for Sour Sookie, a 7 foot tall red sour patch kid with glasses. Sour Sookie got mad and changed color when he couldn't get people to do his homework. When he got really mad he turned into Evil Bacon Boy and shot grease.

Salty Evil Dark Ootapus (or Salty for short) would hang around Sour Snookie a lot. Salty and her guards lived in a house made of gingerbread leaves. She had a super back pack with 8 arms that could snatch candy away from people. She wanted to turn the world savory and replace all the candy with chips, pretzels, and hot dogs.

One day Lady Licorice and CJ so Cool were out on patrol, looking for bullies to teach how to be nice. CJ so Cool was lamenting that Sour Sookie had taken all the honey from its cave.

Just then they came upon Sour Sookie and Salty destroying candy and tearing apart friendships...

SOUR
SOOKIE

CAKEY
JAKE

