

KICK-KNACK-PADDY-QUACK:

ISAIAH'S
ADVENTURES IN CANDYLAND

An original of Mr. Mason's 4th grade class at Washington Writers' Academy in conjunction with Read And Write Kalamazoo

A Division of Geological & Musicological Survey Co. Publications
Copyright 2018

Published April 16th, 2018

For more information about Read And Write Kalamazoo's literacy focused programs, please visit www.readandwritekzoo.org

Today's Story Helpers Are:
Leaders: Mark Majcher & Olivia Bouck
Illustrator: Emily Kastner
Typist: Brendan King
Support: Jason Conde, Gina Dressander, Stephan Santiago, Jonathan Bush

in partnership with

Western Michigan University

Kick-Knack-Paddy-Quack: Isaiah's Adventures in Candyland

Once there was a world covered in clouds of ice cream and fire, making it constantly rain ice cream. In the air, french fries, hot cheetos, millions of dollars, hover boards, Takis, iPhone X's, and glowing butterflies floated around. The air was made of pickle juice and each night smelled of baked goods.

The ground was made of glass with lava underneath, so that if you broke the glass, you'd fall right in. Growing candy skyscrapers dotted the landscape surrounded by cotton candy trees. From the huge brownie mountains flowed hot chocolate and juice rivers and lakes (not tomato juice), chocolate fountains, and strawberry-nacho cheese waterfalls. Takis would also sometimes rain down, landing in the nacho cheese waterfalls to make a spicy treat.

Monkeys would jump out of cupcakes shouting, "Surprise monkey cupcake!" Hybrid flat iron/iPhone birds flew through the sky and penguin crackers walked along the ground. They all had retractable wings.

On this planet there were big wishing trees with white branches, gold leaves, and black bark that could grant limited wishes.

Magic carpets and flying juice boxes lay at the ready for easy transportation. There were bicycles built specifically to cross the applesauce ocean and dodge the candy sharks that lived beneath the waves.

Isaiah was a giant gingerbread hero. Isaiah, however, was not always big, but instead started small and continued to get bigger and bigger. Isaiah had a six-pack tummy, swag to the extreme, and a lambo. Isaiah could fly, turn invisible, and strived to save the world.

The hero's best friend and sidekick's name was Mega-robin-genie. Mega-robin-genie could split into two people (a boy and a girl). The boy was super buff with a mullet and the girl was blonde. Mega-robin-genie had a human top but ghost feet and had iron fists, x-ray vision, and a golden body.

Captain Quack was half horse/half duck and was big and flashy, wearing a gold leopard suit. Captain Quack lived underground in a pudding cave with a big pool inside to "horse around in." Their only weakness was cotton candy and, while not a bad guy, wanted to get rid of all the candy on the planet.

Captain Quack's sidekick's name was Evil Kick (The PRETTIEST VILLIAN IN THE WORLD). Evil Kick looked like a knick-knack-paddy-wack and lived in the wish-tree forest. Evil Kick could turn invisible, start fires with her mind, and could safely touch lava. Evil Kick was abandoned by her family and only wanted wishes from the magic wish tree.

One day, Isaiah and Mega-robin-genie were driving around in Isaiah's lambo when they saw Captain Quack and Evil Kick in the forest ...

