Peculiar Purple Island and the Battle Against Discrimination

Once upon a time there was a floating soft island surrounded by coffee waters in the sky composed of dark and scary tie-dyed mountains with grey and purple colored creeks and sand. There are hidden bunkers supported by roots of trees and a dark maze running through sharp titanium rocks. On this island it rains and thunders tacos on Tuesdays and pizza on Thursdays under pink clouds. The purple sky is made up of 42 moons with different colors and faces including one white cold sun and one black warm sun. It smells of old socks and wet dogs on this island due to the dog clouds and pink fluffy unicorns that appear on rainbows when it rains. On this island no one sleeps due to the huge presence of coffee rivers, latte lakes, and creamer rivers. If you don't like the taste of these rivers you may be banished!

The people get around on this island by riding purple griffohips and lightening like trains. You can also get around by sound-waves if you have a pair of cowboy boots or by hover cars and jet packs. Don't worry, there are energy fences so you don't crash but may not protect you from the creepy creatures and plants roaming around.

There are purple Do Do birds who are becoming extinct, purple cats who poop jelly beans on National Cat Day, and rainbow dragons. There are gold owls that can take you back to planet Earth and a Crocopus (Crocodile and Platypus hybrid). There are clam-like plants with green and red dots and teeth that lifts you across to the bunkers and bite if you are too squirmy. There are also some fresh orange fruit trees and some rotten pink trees that help support the bunkers.

On this island lives Jaden and Gwen, a two-headed intelligent girl and boy who share one mind and brain with the power of two. Jaden has a short pink mohawk and Gwen has long black braids in the front and short braids in the back. They have broken wings that hinder them from flying but allow them to hover. They live isolated far away in a green and turquoise modern decor filled bunker, only leaving on Tuesdays and Thursdays for food. They are very distinct from their family being that Gwen breathes ice and Jaden breathes fire. Jaden and Gwen are afraid to be seen and strive to overthrow the discriminating government of their island.

Jaden and Gwen are joined by their friend Dr. Ghidalk, an easily distracted two-headed pug dog with 90 legs. The boy head is gold and breathes fire while the girl's is made up of blue and green stripes and breathes gasoline that causes marshmallow fluff explosions. They breathe underwater in their home under Crocapus Lake and can be bribed by treats.

There also lives Farleosocarlston Calabala who is part crocapus and part squid with a unicorn horn because he spilled potions on himself! He has an orange afro and 18 orange tentacles with his heart in his nose. His unicorn was stolen and its' heart was shrunken 6 times so he is now afraid of diets and eating healthy. He lives under Latte Lake and captured a taco gun from Taco Tuesday. Farleosocarlston Calabala hypnotizes animals and controls coffee, making everyone chunky with his taco gun.

He is joined by Alfred the evil doer, a weak janitor, who is 3 feet tall with orange eyes and a bald head of only 3 hairs. He has feet for hands and hands for feet and a plastic-ninja star covered black belt with an excellent aim. He lives in a tiny boring apartment because his wife left him for a marshmallow so he seeks revenge.

On a sunny Taco Tuesday, Jaden and Gwen left their home to gather food. However, what they did not know was that Farleosocarlston Calabala and Alfred the Evil Doer were waiting quietly behind a rotten pink tree....
