The Majestic Breadstick Forest

There was once a place known as Dessert & Pizza World. There was sugar candy grass, breadstick trees, and ranch dressing water slides amidst the cheese deserts and ice cream mountains. Candy butterflies with wrapper wings fluttered around the chocolate bar houses and cookie and pizza cars.

It was always night time but mostly cloudy so the stars and moon were infrequently visible. In the fall, when our story takes place, there was a fairly steady gentle drizzly rain and the temperature fluctuated from cold to hot to warm to cold again. Though they were rarely seen, there were 5 suns of varying colors (black, blue, red, yellow, and rainbow) and 3 full moons (dark/light blue, dark/light green, and grey and black).

This world had a beautiful array of plants. There were flowers that were about 5 inches wide with red skittle petals and green sour straw stems, and purple now and later leaves. There were sour patched kid-filled chocolate bar trees with lipstick candy branches covered in sugar grass leaves. Among the branches you might find a gummy worm nest filled with chocolate eggs. When people dropped their half eaten pizza on the ground it would grown into breadstick trees that grew in pairs, one was always very kind and the other...not so much.

The world was also home to several very special creatures including dragons, octopi, and dogs. There was a majestic purple and blue dragon known as Victoria. She was strong and graceful, had bat wings, and ate candy that tasted like meat. An octopus named Cadejah and her 30 babies lived here as well. She was blue, had 106 tentacles and loved to eat chicken. Evelyn the dog was a brown, long-haired, majestic dog who was raising four puppies on candy dog food.

Most people got around on swimming horses that could carry 4 passengers at a time. They each had one black eye and one blue, 4 legs with webbed toes, a brown front and a black back, and could breathe underwater. Using their horsetail paddles, they could easily swim above and under water.

Francesca (or Veggie Vendetta as she's known when she's being evil) also called this place home. Her skin was the purple of an eggplant and she had broccoli hair, black olive eyes, a green bean unibrow, and a pea nose and wore a cabbage dress and carrot shoes. She was 25 years old and at 6 foot 2 inches she was the tallest person in the world. She lived in Veggietown between the pizza and dessert parts of town and could teleport and throw up veggies. Her best friend left her to live in the Pizza part of town so she hated pizza and would use her veggie septror to destroy the breadstick trees.

But never fear, The Good Guy was never far away. He lived in a pepperoni, mushroom, onion, and extra cheese pizza house where he had a room with a giant bathtub filled with candy flavored water. He was as tall as your average 10-year-old and wore a black, blue, white, pink, and yellow suit. He could control fire and water, become ad shadow, had super hearing, and could split himself into as many copies as he wanted, but his weakness was his left shoulder. He dreamt that one day he could save the world using his super powers. Little did he know, his chance was just around the corner.

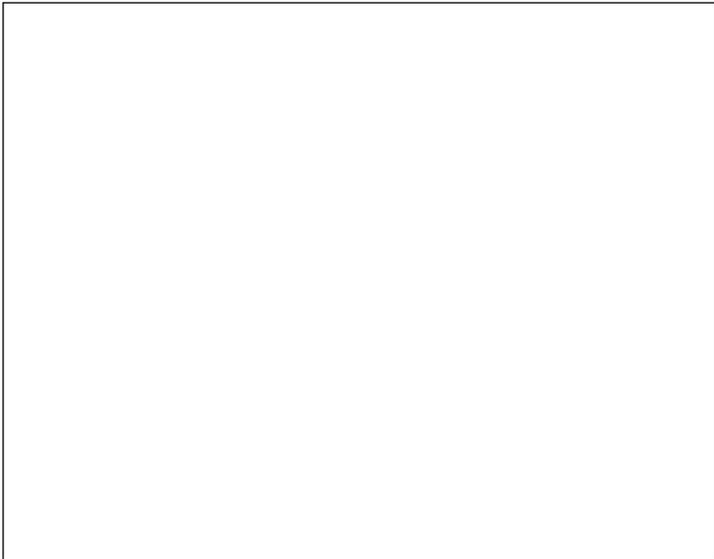

Anabeth the Dragon was a majestically strong blue and aquamarine dragon who was friends with The Good Guy. She ate extremely sweet and juicy apples and strawberries and lived in the Breadstick Forest. She could teleport, fly, and breathe fire, and always wore a puzzle-solving watch. She knew Veggie Vendetta was bad business and hoped to stop her from destroying the Breadstick trees so she had a prison ready and waiting for her. Her friend Victoria, Cadejah, and Evelyn were on hand to act as guards.

One day Veggie Vendetta decided it was time to wipe out all the breadstick trees at once. As she set off toward the forest, she never suspected that The Good Guy and Anabeth were waiting for her...
